HALL'S BOND.

The Hakes Mine Sale Will Be Consummated.

Hall Has Shipped a Ten-Stamp Mill to the Mammoth Mine and All Doubt is Settled.

The future prosperity of the Superstition mining camp is now a certainty. Mr. U. R. Hakes received word yesterday that Hall had shipped a ten stamp mill, which will arrive in a few days, to be put up at the Mammoth mine in the Superstition mountains. This action is for the people of the valley have been waiting for, and now being fully satisfied with the mine and prospect of active development at once, which the shipping of the stamp mill before the sale is due amply proves, the business men of the surrounding country will flock there and a camp will spring up which will become a wonder of the world. When Messrs. Hall & Sullivan left the place one month ago, they offered to pay the bond themselves if they could deduct the interest until the sale was due, the 18th of July, showing that they were satisfied with the mine. But the owners would not do this. Mr. Hall went to Denver and immediately made preparations for putting up a stamp mill on the claim. The velocity with which this move was made shows that Hall, at least, believed the mine was rich. Water has been reached on the townsite, a good number of houses have already been sold. There is a saloon, restaurant, two livery stables on the ground, and other business have only waited to see what Hall intended to do, and when the news would begin to flow there. It is no doubt a rich country, and may develop into one of the richest mining districts in the territory, another Leadville or Colorado. Mesa City lies in the direct road to the mines and will receive the principal benefit from there.

For hammocks, tents, wagon covers and general line of camping outfit go to the Farmers' Exchange.

MESA NOTES.

Mr. Hough, the Tempe ice man, paid Mesa a business visit yesterday.

J. P. Yanta came in from his ranch, northeast of the city yesterday on business.

A ducking party started for upper Salt river today to stay about a week.

C. E. Harris of San Francisco came up to Mesa yesterday to look at the mines. He will go up to the mines today and will prospect for a few days.

Mr. G. M. Tiffany, the successful brickmaker of Lehi, paid Mesa a visit yesterday. He is wearing a broad smile of satisfaction over some big sales he made a few days back.

Mr. Cottrill, one of the most successful brick makers of Phoenix, paid Mesa a visit yesterday. He now has the controlling interest in G. M. Tiffany's brick mill at Lehi and proposes to keep up the high standard with his brick here, which has so successfully established in Phoenix.

Patrick Shanley of Globe, one of the live stock commissioners of the territory, came up to Mesa yesterday and was delighted with the prospect of wealth and position Mesa City and surrounding districts. He will attend the live stock commission at Phoenix and perhaps remain over a week.

Mr. Thalheimer, a successful business man of Phoenix, came up to Mesa yesterday to invest in Mesa property. He, like us, believes in the rapid growth and prosperity of this bright city and country, and wants to receive the benefit of it. Being willing to risk his money on the outcome, which is no less an all as success can be the only goal.

A good deal of excitement was created here yesterday by a knock-down between Chester Harper and Oscar Cooper, both of Lehi. There seems to have been a feud between the pair for some time and it terminated yesterday when they met in Mesa. A warrant was issued by Co-mission and Harper arrested, and Justice Pomeroy imposed a fine of $19 upon him for malicious assault.

Prospectors and miners will do well to call at the Farmers' Exchange for anything they need.

Want—100 cords of good, solid, dry wood, delivered at G. M. Tiffany's brick yard at Lehi. Will pay highest market prices, cash down.

A GARDEN SPOT.

Inducements Offered By the South Side to Homeseekers.

The Consolidated is the largest of the great canals of the south side. The system now consists of 40 miles of main canal; 75 miles of main laterals and 150 miles of smaller laterals so distributed that 100,000 acres of land may be irrigated.

Besides this great system the following canals with underlying territory must be considered: The Highland canal, 20 miles, 15,000 acres; the Mesa canal, 10 miles, 20,000 acres; the Utah, 10 miles, 20,000 acres; the Tempe, 15 miles, 30,000.

The entire region about Mesa derives its life from these systems which are also contributory in the highest degree to the agricultural prosperity of the country around Tempe.

There is a rapidly spreading belief that that part of the valley in which these two flourishing towns are located is the garden spot of Arizona and developments justify the growing belief.

It is not improper in this connection to describe briefly the grounds upon which this belief is based and the natural reasons why it is so.

The country about Mesa will probably within the next ten years enjoy the widely circulated distinction of being the most productive fruit-growing region in the United States as it is now known to be the chief fruit belt of the valley.

It differs sufficiently in altitude from the rest of the valley to insure semi-tropical fruits against danger from frost always imminent in the most favored regions of California.

The altitude is 81.6 feet higher than Tempe and 172 feet above Phoenix, rendering it somewhat cooler than either place in summer and slightly warmer in winter.

Vineyards dot the country in every direction and hundreds of broad acres are set to oranges, almonds, dates, etc. Mesa City, the center of this lovely region, is an ideal village of 1200 people, situated 6.8 miles east of Tempe and about 17 miles from Phoenix.

The business and commercial interests include one bank, seven general merchandise stores, one hardware store, two blacksmith shops, one lumber yard and two saloons.

The buildings are of a good character and become more pretentious yearly. As might be expected in such a community there are excellent church and school facilities and the town is sufficiently metropolitan to support a small opera house.

Communication is maintained with the neighboring cities of Tempe and Phoenix by means of two daily stages.

Three miles east of Mesa City is the prosperous village of Lehi, among whose other industries and features is a creamery, the best in Arizona and known throughout the territory.

The mesa proper extends to the river, four miles north of Mesa City; on the south it is almost limitless, a stretch of country which within ten years will be known as the Garden Spot of America.
